The forecast of stopovers with the Far East refers to the 5 weekly services of the three alliances that Port of Barcelona currently has, which are:

- The Alliance: MD1, MD2
- 2M: Dragon-AE20, Jade-AE11
- Ocean Alliance: MED2

Remember that The Alliance, with the recent incorporation of the MD2 is Barcelona, has 2 weekly (MD1 i MD2). The 2M stops in Barcelona with two services (Dragon-AE20 i Jade-AE11), although the Dragon-AE20 service is temporarily suspended by the alliance and no date has yet been set for its reactivation. For its part, the Ocean Alliance has a weekly stopover between Barcelona and the Far East with its MED 2 service.

The forecast of calls with the east coast of United States which refers to the following 3 weekly services:

- ZCA/AL7: Hapag-Lloyd, ONE, Yang Ming i ZIM
- TAT1/AL6/ZCI: CMA CGM, Cosco, Hapag-Lloyd, ONE, OOCL, Yang Ming i ZIM
- MEDGULF/TA-6/MMGX: 2M (MSC, Maersk, Hamburg Süd)

In this 2M it is the only alliance that has regular services between the Port of Barcelona and the east cost of the United States.
